

Dantes Partners Uses CCTV to Secure Multi-Family Communities

June, 2015

Digital Video Solutions, Inc. (DVS) is pleased to announce that Dantes Partners, a Washington D.C. based real estate development firm with a passion for urban neighborhood revitalization, has decided to use CCTV solutions provided by DVS to secure its multi-family communities.

According to Dantes Partners Development Manager, Kofi Meroe, "We are always impressed by the problem solving, responsiveness, and professionalism exhibited by Digital Video Solutions. We commend the work they have performed for us thus far to secure our multi-family communities in the District of Columbia, and we will continue to call upon DVS as a preferred security solutions provider for our developments."

DVS Chief Operating Officer, Jim Braccille, adds, "Dantes Partners contacted us recently because they were having some break-ins in one of their tenant garages. Upon completing a site assessment, we identified a couple of holes in their perimeter security and coverage. We recommended some strategic locations for additional video coverage and were able to use the expanded coverage to quickly identify the intruder and determine how he was gaining access to the property. Based on this new information, we recommended some perimeter security enhancements to prevent future intruders."
